

TV Access Project with Jules Hussey

This is Jules Hussey. She is the founder of Brazen Productions a production company which focuses on making the film and TV industry more inclusive!

'I was anxious about doing something new (aren't we all) but that nervousness slowly melted away.' Luke

Jules' Comments:
Luke and Samuels comments and suggestions were incredibly helpful and have let me make even better documents!

'I learned how to give feedback and gained confidence' Samuel

What did our students do?

Our students, Luke and Samuel, looked at some easy read documents and gave Jules feedback on how to improve.

These documents were about working in the film and TV industries and disability rights in the workplace.

Jules had to get opinions from many people before the documents got published.

Luke and Samuel were the last people to give feedback and their feedback made Jules make some changes.
